Editor's note: this conbook was never actually printed and exists largely for the sake of continuity and as a historical document. It is the fourth one like it and should be the last.

Gamex 2021 is cancelled due to the Covid-19 pandemic of 2020-2021. Gamex 2021 is being run as a virtual convention, the fourth of its kind for Strategicon. As such it is handled in a much different fashion than a normal Strategicon conbook.

Welcome

Strategicon welcomes you to Virtual Gamex 2021. Thank you for joining us.

This one isn't normal by any stretch. Really, this is the fourth time we've done it this way and we hope we do not have to again. Live-Action Pandemic was never the plan, we swear.

New to the convention? Well, so are we – at least in this format.

If you have any questions, the convention staff will be glad to assist you via the info-booth or reg-help channels in Discord.

Again, thank you for coming. Enjoy the adventure. We have no idea how this is going to go.

Convention Hours

Gamex opens to the public at noon on Friday and closes at 6 pm on Monday. While events such as seminars and tournaments are scheduled, open gaming never closes.

Common Rights of Event Officials

To clarify the authority of the judges and event gamemasters (GMs), this convention grants its officials these rights.

1. Judges and GMs may modify game rules as necessary by announcement prior to commencement of the event.
2. Judges and GMs may adjudicate a winner when time allotted for the completion of the round has elapsed.
3. As necessary, judges and GMs may take appropriate action to ensure sportsmanlike play and fairness in the event.
4. If an event draws fewer players than the minimum the GM determines is necessary, the convention reserves the right to cancel it.
5. Event officials have the right to eject, if deemed necessary, any player from an event.

Event Registration

You can register for events on the web site (https://www.strategicon.net/?event_reg) by entering your name on the sign up sheet prior to the event's scheduled starting time. Some groups have all event sign up sheets available all day and are only removed when that event starts, thus allowing "walk-in" registration.

Please arrive at the appropriate Discord channel 10 minutes prior to its scheduled start time and be ready to play.

Late Arrivals

Show up on time for your game events! Even if you've registered, if you're not on time, it's assumed you're not going to show up and your place may be given away to someone else.

Enjoy the con!

Never miss an event! Follow us on Twitter (@Strategicon) for updates & announcements during the con!

Flea Market

Flea Market tables are not available during this virtual convention.

Game Auction

The convention usually hosts, as one of its prime attractions, the auction of games and related products. This entertainment highlight, where items often sell for below retail price, will be not be held this show.

Convention Rules (aka Virtual Code of Conduct)

1. Strategicon is for humans only. ALL humans are to be treated equally, with respect, by everyone involved in any way with Strategicon. If you feel that anyone is willfully inhibiting your ability to enjoy Strategicon events, please contact your nearest Staff member and report the incident. (For virtual con staff members have their positions next to their names.)
2. Play with integrity. You are your reputation.
3. Do not abuse access to our Discord servers or subsequent other applications and platforms we may use (Tabletopia, Tabletop Simulator, Zoom, etc).
4. Settle disputes within game with the Game Master. Please alert a volunteer if you need help with unbiased decisions.
5. Be responsive and invested in the games you decide to play.
7. We also ask that all participants, players, GMs and staff, keep in mind that everyone is trying to make this work and have fun under unpredictable and adverse circumstances. Please be kind to one another, and be patient with one another, and remember that none of us would have structured our events entirely this way by choice.

A Word (or ten) from the Con Man

Once more into the breach

Welcome to Virtual Gamex 2021. Glad you could join us. It's a bit different than what we usually do during one of these shows, but given the circumstances, let's make the most of it.

There's a light!

We've almost reached the end of this nightmare. Not in time to save this show, but the state of California is opening up to live events in a few weeks and we will return to live conventions, so Gamex 2021 will be the last virtual show we run, we hope.

Let's have some fun!

So this is the last hurrah for our virtual shows. Let's have some fun with it – we won't get to do this again.

It could have been worse

As much as we miss the live shows, we learned a lot about how to run a virtual show and we met a lot of new people that we wouldn't have otherwise. I suspect some of the virtual components will be incorporated into the live shows as a way to enhance certain events and aspects of the show. The genie is out of the bottle, so to speak, and we might as well take advantage of it.

We're still solvent!

A growing concern expressed to me frequently was the financial health of the shows. We're fine. Our overhead is fairly minimal. We aren't making any money, but the losses are sustainable. We're still here, and we certainly will be for the resumption of live shows in September.

The new normal will be different

We don't know what restrictions we're going to have to operate under come September. There could be vaccination requirements, contact tracing requirements, mask requirements, etc. We simply do not know and will not know until the rules get handed down from on high.

Jailbreak!

By the time we get to Gateway I'll have been lockdown for 15 months and working from home for 18 months. I consider myself lucky – my work allowed me to adapt to the situation fairly easily and keep working. Others weren't so lucky. Still others had to put themselves at risk on a daily basis to keep things from falling apart. For those that have been on the front lines, thank you.

Have fun this con. We'll see you (live) soon!
